ANSWER KEY

A. Look and Write (a/an, some or any + noun)

- | | |
|----------------------|-----------------|
| 1. an apple | 5. some cheese |
| 2. some rice | 6. some bread |
| 3. some eggs | 7. some bananas |

|---------|---------|
| 1. some | 5. some |
| 2. any | 6. any |
| 3. an | 7. some |
| 4. any | 8. some |

C. Make a Shopping List

Personal answers – 5 countable items (with a plural or a number: apples, eggs, bananas, tomatoes, sandwiches) and 5 uncountable items (milk, bread, cheese, rice, water). Check no a/an and no plural on the uncountable side.

D. Make Sentences

1. I have some rice.
2. I need a tomato.
3. I don't have any milk.
4. There is some bread.
5. I want an orange.
6. There aren't any bananas.
7. I have some cheese.
8. I don't want any coffee.

| 1. some | 5. any |
| 2. some | 6. some |
| 3. some | 7. some |
| 4. some | 8. any |

F. Write a Short Paragraph

Personal answers (4–6 sentences about food at home or a shopping trip). Must use a/an, some and any correctly and at least four food nouns. Check: 'a/an' only with singular countable; 'any' in negatives.

TEACHING SUPPORT

TEACHER TIP

The one rule that fixes most errors here: 'a / an' is only for ONE countable thing (an apple, a tomato). If it's uncountable (milk, rice) or plural (eggs, bananas), it must be 'some' (or 'any' in a negative/question). Write that on the board and keep it up for Exercises A, D and E.

COMMON STUDENT MISTAKES

- X I have a milk.
- ✓ I have some milk.
- X Can I have some apple?
- ✓ Can I have an apple?
- X We don't have some sugar.
- ✓ We don't have any sugar.
- X There is a eggs.
- ✓ There are some eggs.

EXTRA CLASS ACTIVITY

My Fridge (8 min)

Each student draws a quick fridge with 6 foods, then writes 4 sentences about it: two with 'some' (I have some...), one with 'a/an' (There is a...), one negative with 'any' (I don't have any...). Partners swap and check.

LEARNING FOCUS

Objective: Students will be able to write affirmative, negative and question sentences about food using a / an, some and any with countable and uncountable nouns.

Success Criteria: I can use 'a / an' with one countable thing. I can use 'some' in affirmative sentences and 'any' in negatives and questions. I can write a short paragraph about food at home.

Prior Knowledge: Countable vs. uncountable nouns (from the Grammar worksheet); food vocabulary; there is / there are.

LESSON PLAN (40–45 MINUTES)

Level: A1

Skill: Writing

Topic: Writing with a / an, some and any + countable / uncountable nouns

Exercises: 6 (A–F)

Est. Time: 40–45 minutes

MATERIALS & PREP

- Printed worksheet copies (1 per student)
- Board for the a/an – some – any rule

- Pens or pencils

TIME	STAGE	PROCEDURE
5 min	Warm-Up	Hold up or draw an apple, a bowl of rice, and three eggs. Ask the class to describe each: 'an apple', 'some rice', 'some eggs'. Write the three phrases on the board and ask why 'apple' gets 'an' but 'rice' and 'eggs' get 'some'.
11 min	Presentation (I Do)	Teach the three-way choice on the board with colour: a / an = ONE countable thing (an apple, a tomato); some = affirmative, with uncountable or plural (some milk, some eggs); any = negatives and questions (I don't have any bread. Do you have any eggs?). Explain why 'a milk' is impossible: 'a' means one unit, and milk has no units to count. Model Exercise A pictures 1–3 aloud, then Exercise D item 1: 'have / some / rice → add a subject and a capital → I have some rice.' Show that the Exercise F checklist is the self-mark tool.
10 min	Guided Practice (We Do)	Class completes Exercise A together, saying the reason (one countable → a/an; uncountable or plural → some). Do Exercise B items 1–3 as a class, labelling each sentence affirmative / negative / question first.
10 min	Independent Practice (You Do)	Students complete Exercises B, D and E alone, then compare E in pairs. Circulate and correct 'a milk' / 'some' in negatives on the spot.
6 min	Assessment	Review Exercise E on the board, students giving the answer and the reason. Students then complete Exercise C (shopping list) and the Exit Ticket individually.
5 min	Closure	Students write the first two sentences of the Exercise F paragraph and read them to a partner, who checks a/an, some and any.

FOLLOW-UP / HOMEWORK IDEA

Homework: finish the Exercise F paragraph (4–6 sentences) about your kitchen, using at least one 'a/an', two 'some' and one 'any'.

ANTICIPATED PROBLEMS & SOLUTIONS

Problem: Students use 'a / an' with uncountable nouns ('a milk', 'a bread') because these nouns are countable in their first language.

Solution: Keep 'a = one unit' on the board; when a student writes 'a milk', ask 'one milk? two milks?' – the strangeness fixes it.

Problem: Students use 'some' in negatives and questions ('I don't have some bread').

Solution: Colour-code the board: green = affirmative → some, red = negative / question → any; students check the colour before writing.

FOR EXTRA SUPPORT

Give weaker students Exercises B and E with the sentence type labelled (affirmative / negative / question) so they only choose some or any.

FOR AN EXTRA CHALLENGE

Students turn four of their affirmative 'some' sentences into negative 'any' sentences.

EXTENSION & FAST-FINISHER IDEAS

- Write one question with 'any' about food in the classroom.

- Sort into countable / uncountable: bottle, juice, plate, sugar, sandwich.

LANGUAGE FOCUS & BOARD NOTES

Grammar: a / an (one countable), some (affirmative), any (negative / question) + countable & uncountable food nouns.

Board: an apple • some milk • some eggs • I don't have any bread. • Do you have any eggs?

EXIT TICKET — QUICK CHECK

1. Choose: Can I have (a / some) apple? → a

2. Choose: We don't have (some / any) sugar. → any

3. Write from the words: there is / some / bread → There is some bread.
